CHAPTER – I

SANKARANKOIL – A PROFILE

LOCATION :

1.01. Sankarankoil is a second grade Municipal Town, located on the northern part of Tirunelveli District. It is one of the pilgrim centers in the southern part of TamilNadu State. It lies between $90^{\circ} 9'$ and $90^{\circ} 12'$ on the northern latitude and between $77^{\circ} 31'$ and $77^{\circ} 35'$ on the eastern latitude. It is situated 45 kms. South of Srivilliputhur, 19kms. west of Kalugumalai, 52kms. north of Tirunelveli, the District Headquarters town, and 14kms. east of Puliyangudi. The metre gauge railway line connecting Tenkasi and Virudhunagar passes through this town now which is being converted from Metre gauge into Broad gauge. Map No.1 shows the location of Sankarankoil Town.

1.02. The growth of Sankarankoil Town has a direct bearing on the location of the Sankaranaianar Temple. The temple was built by the King Ukkaramapandian in the first half of the 11th century. During the later half of the 12th century, the King Seramanpandian enlarged the temple.

1.03. The village was surveyed in the end of the 19th century and the village map was published in 1901.

POPULATION GROWTH

1.04. The town was a Panchayat Board up to the year 1964, It was upgraded as a third grade Municipality on 01.04.1964 and again it was elevated as a second grade municipality on 31.11.1978. As per the 1981 census, the population of the town was 42,084 as against 32,994 as per the 1971 census. The increase in population between 1971 and 1981 accounted to 9090 i.e. 28% This shows that the town is growing rapidly when compared to the population growth of the Tirunelveli District. Table No.1 shows the population in various decades of the town.

1.05. growth of the town is mainly based on the existence of the famous temple Sankaranainarkoil as well as the availability of a number of handloom units. Houses are more concentrated around the temple. 87 acres of land is classified as natham i.e. for house sites in the year of 1901. The highest population density is found around the temple area (ie) the heart of the town. The population density of the town during the period 1971 and 1981 appear to be very low when compared to the density in natham area. The difference in the density for the entire town and natham area shows that more population is concentrated in the heart of the town i.e. around the temple area. In the north of the town along Rajapalayam Road, few powerloom industrial cum residential buildings were developed.

1.06. The number of houses in 1971, 1981 and 1991 were 6406, 8417 and 13894 respectively. The size of household was 5.15 persons and 4.81 persons per household during 1971 and 1981 respectively.

Population in Sankarankoil Town During 1941-1991

Year	Persons	Increases in Population	Variation
1941	16,923	--	--
1951	21,904	4,981	(+) 29.43
1961	24,088	2,184	(+) 09.97
1971	32,994	8,906	(+) 36.99
1981	42,084	9,090	(+) 27.55
1991	48,739	6,655	(+) 15.81

OCCUPATIONAL PATTERN

1.07. The occupational pattern of 1971 and 1981 census reveals that the secondary sector predominates other activities during 1971 and the tertiary sector dominates during 1981. Occupational pattern relating to the census 1971 and 1981 are given in the Table 2 below.

TABLE -2Occupational Pattern in Sankarankoil Town 1971-81

Name of Category	1971			1981
	Persons	% to total workers	% to total population	Persons	% to total workers	% to total Population
Primary sector	1995	15.40	6.00	2416	13.88	5.74
Secondary sector	5927	45.80	18.00	2876	16.51	6.83
Tertiary Sector	5038	38.80	15.30	12120	69.61	28.80
Total Workers	12960	100.00	39.30	17412	100.00	41.37
Non Workers	20034	--	60.28	24672	--	58.63
Total Population	32994	--	100.00	42054	--	100.00

1.08. The occupational pattern in the town clearly shows that there is not much difference between 1971 and 1981 census in primary sector. In the Secondary sectoral activities, the percentage of persons engaged in this category is reduced by 29.29% during 1971 to 1981, whereas the percentage to total workers in tertiary activities had increased by 31%.

EXISTING LAND USE

1.09. In order to assess the land use break-up of the town a land use survey was conducted in August 1995 and a land use map was also prepared as presented in Map 2. The existing land use break up of the town is given below in Table – 3.

TABLE -3

Land use break up in Sankarankoil Town 1995

Sl.No.	Uses	Developed areas in Hectares	% to the developed area	% to total area
1.	Residential	195.72.00	65.30	15.78
2.	Commercial	14.60.00	4.87	1.17
3.	Industrial	63.73.00	21.26	5.13
4.	Educational	12.53.50	4.18	1.00
5.	Public and Semi Public	13.15.50	4.39	1.06

6.	Water bodies and roads	215.75.00	--	17.42
7.	Agriculture use (wet & dry)	724.51.00	--	58.44
	Total	1240.00.00	100.00	100.00

1.10. From the table it is seen that out of the total area of 1240 hectares of land, only 299.74.00 hectares of land constitutes the developed area, which works out to be 24.14% of the total area. The undeveloped area accounts to 940.26 hectares which works out to be 75.86% of the total area.

RESIDENTIAL USE

1.11. In the developed area, residential use dominates with 65.30% followed by industrial use with 21.26%, commercial use 4.87% public and semi public use with 4.39%, and educational use with 4.18%. The intensity of developments are almost around the temple Sankaranainarkoil. There are ribbon developments of residential use along the Tirunelveli – Rajapalayam Road. Due to the lack of road network, developments of the town are restricted considerably.

COMMERCIAL

1.12. The commercial activity of the town is concentrated in the centre of the town. The commercial activity is not well distributed. The commercial activities have concentrated around the temple. The commercial activities are divided as follows :

- i. Wholesale Establishments
- ii. Mandies
- iii. Retail shops

1.13. This town has a service center serves for all the surrounding villages. The people of surrounding villages as and when they visit the temple on Fridays, procure their requirements from wholesale or retail shops. Apart from other agricultural produce of the surrounding villages chillies in huge quantities are purchased and stored in mandies and are exported outside. The mandies are situated in heart of the town. The mandies play a great role in commercial activities of the town as the export quality of chillies are also sold from the mandies.

1.14. In general the wholesale shops, mandies and shops are situated thickly in one area. This state of affairs creates traffic congestion in the town. Reorganisation of commercial centers is an urgent necessity for the town.

INDUSTRIES

1.15. Industrial growth in the town is significant when comparing to other uses in the town. The predominant industries in the town are handlooms. For the past two or three decades, handloom industries are in existence in the town. In view of the demand in cotton production, two ginning factories have come up here. Apart from 2000 power loom units at present, more than thousand families are engaged in handloom weaving also.

SERVICE INDUSTRIES

1.16. Service industries, like motor and tractor repairs, motor winding also exist in this town. The total number of workers engaged in this industries are about 6000.

TRANSPORTATION

1.17. The town is well provided with roads and rail facilities. The railway station is located 1.50km away from the temple. Sankarankoil Railway station is situated between Virudhunagar and Tenkasi broad gauge line. Railway traffic in the line is quite low.

1.18. This town is provided with major District roads and other District roads. The Puliyangudi Road, Thiruvengadam Road and the Kalugumalai Road are maintained by the Highways Department. The details of the roads maintained by the municipality are shown in the Table 4 below : TABLE -4

Details on road in Sankarankoil Town 1995

Sl.No.	Type of Roads	Length	% to total Length

3.	Metal Road	8.284 Km	23.65
4.	Gravel Road	5.880 Km	16.79
	Total	35.025 Km	100.00

1.19. Traffic flow is comparatively high on the roads viz. Puliyangudi Road, Rajapalayam road, Kalugumali Road and Tirunelveli Road.

1.20. The bus stand is located on the northern side of the Municipal office. The number of buses passing through the bus stand is nearly 80 per day. In peak hours i.e. morning 9.00 to 10.30 and evening 4.30 to 6.00 nearly 15 buses are accumulated at a time in the bus stand. The present bus stand is capable of accommodating 10 buses at a time. A new bus stand at Thiruvengadam Road is newly constructed but not in operation.

1.21. Lorry traffic flow in the town is low during the day time and normal in the night time. Truck terminal is absent in the town. The main through fare (i.e) Rajapalayam – Tirunelveli Road is more congested and too narrow and hence a bye-pass road is necessary for the above stretch.

WATER SUPPLY AND DRAINAGE

1.22. Drinking water is supplied in this town through protected water supply system. Three overhead tanks are available. The capacity of the overhead tanks are designed only to cater to the requirement of 10,000 population, 2935 house connections and 99 street connections were given by the municipality. In general, drinking water supply is not adequate in the town. The present system requires improvements.

1.23. Underground drainage system is not available in this town. Sullage water is disposed off by using carts. To improve the present insanitary conditions prevailing in the Town atleast open surface drainage systems should be implemented in the streets.

CHAPTER 2

DEVELOPMENT POLICY

Economy of the Town

2.01 The economy of the town is mainly based on handloom industries. But owing to certain imbalances prevailing in the handloom markets, there is a tangible need to convert the handlooms into power looms. This may result in the mushroom growth of power loom industry in the vulnerable part of residential areas. Hence development of power loom industries may be controlled as may be necessary.

Road Development

2.02 The road pattern available since 1901 is still continuing in this town and no new inner link roads or bye pass road is formed. So proposals for formulating link roads and inner link roads are to be formulated.

Water supply

2.03 Apart from the temple area there is much scope for the development of residential colonies beyond the core of the town, in line with the other concomittant uses such as industrial and commercial activities. Non availability of adequate drinking water is one of the limiting factors of urbanisation. Therefore appropriate measures shall be thought of for augmenting drinking water supply system.

Land Value

2.04 Beyond the natham area the land value is considerably less. This is one of the favourable factors for the scope of urbanisation.

Commercial Activities

2.05 Sankarankoil is the market for export quality of chillies. This accelerates influx of floating population towards the town. The impact will be felt in the increase of additional Godown facilities and wholesale marketing facilities, which inturn increase the scope of urbanisation.

Fairs and festivals

2.06 More than 3 lakhs population will gather in the town during the Adi Tapasu festival, which will be celebrated during the month of July-August . Again about one lakh population will gather during the festival days viz. Chitra Thiruvizha, Thirukalyanam, Arudra festival and during yearly cattle fairs. The influx of more population will reflect in the need of more facilities such as boarding, lodging etc.

2.07 Developmental activities are active only in the northern area which consist of two survey numbers only. In the recent years significant spurt in commercial activities is seen. As seen from the population growth, it can be understood that the town is growing at an uniform space and that the under employment is more in the town where as unemployment is less considering the local population.

2.08 The objective is to optimise the use of lands and resources available, so that more employment opportunities can be generated and arrest further migration to major urban centres. It is necessary to promote handicrafts, cottage and rural industries, diary, poultry farms, employment in construction infrastructure facilities such as housing, roads buildings maintenance, irrigation works and trade and commerce are also possible.

Population forecast

2.09 The anticipated population for the town in the year 2011 was worked out by various methods as detailed below in table No.6.

Table - 6

Population estimates for Sankarankoil Town - 2011

S.No	Method	Estimated Population in 2011
1.	Geometrical method	74881
2.	Incremental increase method	63472
3.	Exponential curve method	76780
4.	Parabolic curve method	77512

2.10 The population arrived at by the geometrical method gives an average result and it is to be adopted for large cities which have reached their maximum level. Incremental method gives better results for old cities. Exponential curve method gives more population and as far as the Sankarankoil town is concerned the exponential curve method is considered more suitable and hence it is adopted. The population for 2011 is arrived as 76780 and it has been rounded to 77000 for planning purposes.

Occupational Pattern

2.11 To estimate the future work force, the participation rate and percentage of work force in various sectors of economy are taken into consideration. The suggested occupational break up for the year 2011 is detailed below.

Table – 7

Estimated occupational pattern in Sankarankoil Town 2011

Sector	Percentage of workers in the total workers
	1971	1981	2011
Primary	15.40	13.80	15.00
Secondary	45.80	16.51	18.00
Tertiary	38.80	69.61	67.00
Total	100.00	100.00	100.00

2.12 The ultimate population anticipated for the year 2011 is 77000. It is assumed that the working age group will constitute 60% of the population and thus the workers arrived are 46200. On this assumption, the anticipated work force in the town is given in table 8 below.

Table – 8

Economic activities of workforce anticipated in 2011

Economic activities	Proposed working Force % in 2011	No. of workers in 2011
Primary	15.00	6930
Secondary	18.00	8316
Tertiary	67.00	30954
	100.00	46200

2.13 It is further assumed that the entire work force shall be employed due to various socio economic considerations and in view of the fast growing power loom industries.

Land use requirements

2.14 The land use requirements are assessed by studying the existing land use pattern of the town. The percentage of land use break up proposed in the year 2011 is shown in Table 9.

Table – 9Land use break up for Sankarankoil Town 2011

Sl.No	Use	Land use break up suggested percentage in developed area
1.	Residential	50
2.	Commercial	10
3.	Industrial	33
4.	Education	4
5.	Public and Semi Public	3

Assessment of requirement

2.15 The aim of the studies so far made is to design and prepare a development plan which will serve as a physical framework for regulating the future development of Sankarankoil town. A suitable design on scientific principles can help to create a health and hazardless environment, and it is the ultimate aim of this development plan.

ANALYSIS AND ASSESSMENT

3.01 The analysis and assessment will be normally dealt in the following heads.

- i. The plan period
- ii. Assessment of future population
- iii. Assessment of future land requirement
- iv. Circulation pattern and land use

Plan Period

3.02 It is an accepted formula to fix up a period of 15 to 20 years. To assume and assess the future requirements 15 years is neither too short nor too long. Hence the plan period has been fixed as 15 years and the requirements are worked out for the year 2011.

Assessment of future population

3.03 The master plan proposal for Sankarankoil town is worked out to the town limit only. At present the population density varies from area to area. In the central area higher density is experienced and in the outer area the density is sparse. However taking into account of the characteristics of the town, the design population for the town for the year 2011 has been arrived by projecting the population using exponential curve method. As stated already the design population for the year 2011 is arrived as 77000 and the proposals are drawn up accordingly. Usually the area required for different land uses proposed for future population will be worked out taking into account the population under various occupational sector, and the land use requirement for the entire town.

3.04 The master plan for Sankarankoil Local Planning Area was sanctioned by the Government in G.O.Ms.No. 851 H &UD Department dt. 27.7.90. 10 detailed development plans were prepared by the Sankarankoil Local Planning Authorities, and all the Detailed Development Plans were sanctioned by the Director of Town and Country Planning. The details of the Detailed Development Plans are given in Table 10 below.
